INTERESTS CONTROL OF PIPE LINES

May be Wrested From Them by United States Supreme Court

HAVE HAD MONOPOLY

For Years Compelling Small Oil Producers to Sell Their Oil or Wells to the Large Interests at the Latter's Prices.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Sept. 24.—The federal government today began its fight in the United States supreme court to establish the constitutionality of the provision of the interstate commerce act making pipe lines common carriers. In his first brief filed today by Solicitor General of the United States John Davis, vigorously assails the injunction issued on the ground of unconstitutionality by the commerce court against the commerce commission of the United States, directing pipe lines to file rate tariffs as common carriers.

Control of pipe lines by large interests with powers to compel small producers to sell their oil or wells to pipe line owners at the latter's price, is the source of a monopoly at which congress aimed to strike by opening the pipe lines to the reasonable and equitable use of all, contends the solicitor general.

"The due process, because of legislation is not violated," he declares, "because it does not prevent congress from regulating commerce; nor does such legislation violate the constitutional prohibition against taking property for public use without compensation, because the users of the pipe lines as common carriers must pay a reasonable rate."

"It is indisputably clear," he continues, "that the evil aimed at by congress in making pipe lines common carriers was the monopoly of the oil business by the Standard Oil Company, a monopoly largely, if not chiefly, due to the ownership or control by that corporation of ninety per cent of the pipe lines."

"It is unreasonable to suggest," argues Mr. Davis, that individual well owners or refiners ought to build pipe lines of their own. Every farmer might equally as well construct a railroad, and every cottage have its private gas plant."

It is largely the use of the potent instrument of transportation, he says, that has built up these enormous capitalizations. "The evidence in the Standard Oil case proves it. Congress has struck the monopoly full down. It now seeks to destroy the source from which it sprang."

Pipe lines, against which the proceedings are directed are the Standard Oil Company, Standard Oil Company of Louisiana, the Ohio Oil Company, the Prairie Oil and Gas Company, the Ind. Gas and Oil Company and Robert D. Benson.

OCEAN LINER STRIKES A BARGE IN RIVER ELBE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Hamburg, Germany, Sept. 24.—The steamship Graf Waldersee of the Hamburg-American line while ascending the river Elbe during the night, collided with the small Norwegian steamer Norge. The liner struck the Norge a glancing blow on the starboard side, ripping her open below the water line. The Norge sank immediately. There were no casualties on either vessel.

The Graf Waldersee left Philadelphia for this port on Sept. 11.

BRYAN ASSURES PROTECTION TO YANKS IN MEXICO

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) San Jose, Cal., Sept. 24.—Replying to a telegram sent by Dr. R. S. Grigsby of this city, requesting protection of the Mexican property of a land company, Secretary of State Bryan has wired Grigsby as follows:

"Department has sent appropriate telegraphic instructions to the American consul at Hermosillo and consular agent at Guaymas regarding desired protection of your property. In case of damage to property, department would use its utmost endeavors to obtain that indemnity to which you might appear entitled by the rules and principles of international law. It has been frequently held that a sovereign is not ordinarily responsible to alien residents for injuries they may receive within his territory from insurgents whose conduct he cannot control."

Dr. Grigsby, his brother, Harry C. Grigsby and other officials of the company, a San Jose corporation, fled from the Mexican country in response to the call from Mexican territory of all Americans.

Republican Leaders Favor a National Convention to Be Held Early Next Year

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbus, O., Sept. 24.—Annual distribution of fish to streams of Ohio by the fish and game commission will begin next week and by November 1, more than 1,000,000 fish will have been transferred from Lake Erie and the state hatcheries to streams in the state by means of a special car equipped with huge tanks carried on passenger trains and 10 gallon cans shipped by express.

"The number of people who are adopting fishing as their main outdoor sport is increasing in the country and Ohio each year," said Chief Game Warden John C. Speaks, today, "and more fish must be planted every year. Otherwise the streams would become as free of fish as in a hot geysers."

The route for the "fish car" will be fixed in advance and at scores of stations about the state fishermen will meet it with water tanks and automobiles ready to transport the fish to nearby streams. The "fish car" looks much like a baggage car, but is lined on the interior with a number of tanks, one for each kind of fish. Thousands of small fish from the state hatcheries near London are crowded into these tanks.

Black bass, rock bass, blue gills, croppies and cat fish will be caught at Lake Erie and transferred to the streams. Already many fishermen on the lake are setting their nets for these fish and keeping them in cages under the water awaiting the arrival of the fish car next week. The first trip will be probably to a place west of Cleveland.

The fish car will make stops at a number of places near several streams and make shipments of fish from there in great cans. Many trips back to the London hatcheries will have to be made. Members of the Fishermen's Protective association, which have been organized in many localities throughout the state, at the suggestion of Chief Game Warden Speaks will assist in the distribution.

Indianapolis Suspect Has Double In Custody In West; Photograph Identified by Four

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Indianapolis, Sept. 24.—Either Jos. Ellis, alias Fred Brokaw, alias W. R. Anderson, alias Fred Boley, wanted here for the murder of Jos. Schlansky, a second-hand dealer, in a room in the Oneida hotel Monday night has an exact double or he is not under arrest in San Francisco, as reported last night, according to the local police.

The photograph of Ellis or Brokaw sent broadcast by the Pittsburg police department after the man had lured a second-hand dealer to a hotel and robbed him, was identified positively by four persons here as the man who killed Schlansky. The photograph was identified by Lewis and Jacob Schlansky, sons of the murdered man. W. C. Meyer, day clerk at the hotel, and the clerk in a loan office in which the watch stolen from Maurice Raff in Louisville, Ky., was located.

Captain of Detectives Holtz was positive in his statement today that the slayer of Schlansky would be captured soon. He said the operations of the man had attracted wide attention to the case and police in all cities had been put on the lookout for him.

The local police do not believe the man arrested in San Francisco is Ellis or Brokaw. Audra Baker Anderson, who says that she was married to Roy Anderson, believed to be Jos. Ellis, the slayer of Schlansky at Danville, Ill., attempted to commit suicide here today. The girl, who is 16 years old, told the police, after she had shot herself, that she had married Anderson July 5, and that her husband had deserted her a week later.

The girl said that she had recognized her husband from the description of the Schlansky slayer and that photographs sent out by the Pittsburg police department were those of the man she had married. The murderer registered at a hotel here as Anderson.

In her room were found letters to her mother, Mrs. Iona Baker, of Danville, in which the girl said she was going to kill herself because her husband had murdered a man. Enclosed was a number of accounts of Schlansky's death. The police are investigating.

SPEAKER CLARK DEFENDS CAUCUS FROM THE FLOOR

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Sept. 24.—Speaker Clark abandoned his gavel today to take the floor to defend the Democratic caucus against the Republican attack.

"This continual howl about the caucus is the most idiotic thing that has ascended to Heaven in the last generation," shouted the speaker. The country wants to know what congress does, it does not care three whoops what it didn't. We have revised the tariff and put through a bill changing the banking and currency system. If these measures are not good we did not propose to let you Republicans bring up other subjects on the floor while they were under consideration and distract the attention of members and of the country from the great issues involved." Speaker Clark said he would not answer Republican attacks by calling attention to the way former Speakers Reed and Cannon put through important legislation.

"That would be a case of the pot calling kettle black," he said. "A lot of you fellows have been talking too much for your own good anyhow," concluded the speaker to the accompaniment of a prolonged outburst of applause from the Democrats.

MAY TOW NIAGARA TO OHIO RIVER

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Cincinnati, Sept. 24.—A movement to have Commodore Perry's flagship "Niagara" towed to points on the Ohio river is being launched here. Colonel R. W. Nelson of Newport, who is the head of the movement, says the ship can be brought by way of the lakes to the Mississippi and up the Ohio.

"My enthusiasm was so aroused while attending the celebration in honor of the great commander and viewing the flagship that I felt like the rising generation should be given an opportunity of seeing the famous ship wherever it is possible to bring her. I believe if the proper spirit is aroused and the authorities in the great cities along the Ohio and Mississippi act jointly and urge the officials of Washington, this great desire could be accomplished."

163 MILLIONS IS LOSS IN MARCH FLOOD

Washington, Sept. 24.—A total money loss of $163,000,000 was caused by the floods in the Ohio Valley last March. The weather bureau estimates that sum which includes loss to railroads, telegraph and telephone lines and to farms and farm property, including prospective crop. The latter alone amounted to about $11,000,000. Of the total amount more than seventy percent was sustained in Ohio and Indiana.

In point of magnitude the 1911 flood probably ranks second with all Ohio Valley floods, being overtopped only by the mid-winter flood of 1854, the report declares. In the lower Mississippi the crest stages attained exceeded all previous records between Cairo and Helena.

U. S. SOLDIER SUCCEEDS TO AN ENGLISH PEERAGE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Sept. 24.—A roster of the Eighth U. S. infantry for the last ten years fails to reveal the name of Private Arthur Reginald French, who through the death of his father, Baron de Freyne at French Park, County Roscommon, Ireland, succeeds to an English peerage. The new peer, after serving for several years as an officer in the Royal Fusiliers, is said to have resigned to become a private in the United States army. It was said at the war department that he probably enlisted under an assumed name, as many scions of nobility do. Besides an ancient title he inherits thirty thousand fertile acres in County Roscommon. The Eighth infantry is now in the Philippines.

DENTIST HELD FOR THEFT OF AUTO TIRES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Dayton, O., Sept. 24.—Dr. Hugh McClelland, young dentist, prominent socially, president of the Dayton Bowling Association and member of country and automobile clubs, is arrested here on charge of stealing automobile tires from machines on the street, in conspiracy with "Duke" Miller, a chauffeur, who, it is alleged sold the tires.

TWO DIE IN GUN FIGHT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Cairo, Ill., Sept. 24.—Joseph and John Hill were shot and killed and their brother Bige Hill was injured seriously in a family quarrel last night near Grand Chain, Ills.

SULZER'S DENIAL IS ON FILE

Case Goes Forward Without Decision on Disputed Charges

ACTION IS OPPOSED

Attorneys Argue Important Questions Before the Court Hears Testimony to Support the Impeachment Proceedings.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Albany, N. Y., Sept. 24.—Final decision on the defense's objections to including the "money articles" of the Sulzer case will not be given until testimony has been taken. The court voted, 49 to 7 today to follow this procedure. Those voting no were all Democrats.

Governor Sulzer's answer to the eight articles of impeachment filed with the court today entered a general denial to each and every one of them.

Several members of the court were absent when Attorney Austen G. Fox resumed his argument in behalf of the Sulzer contentions. He opened by attacking the statement of Judge Parker that the constitution permitted the assembly to impeach at any time for any cause.

"This attempt on the part of the managers to remove William Sulzer for acts performed while he was a private citizen," he said, "is a novel doctrine never heard before in any court of justice, never broached in any constitutional convention, never submitted to any English speaking people. Unhappily a scant majority of the assembly promoted by what motive I shall not attempt to guess, are now praying this august tribunal to do away with the limitations with which the wisdom of our fathers has surrounded the exercise of the great power to accuse of wilful misconduct in office."

"It was to be expected that sooner or later, the popular branch of our legislature, acting in the heat of political excitement, possibly with a desire to gratify the personal enmity of some powerful political leader might seek to overstep the well settled limitations of their lawful authority."

"Governor Sulzer was busier making money than getting votes during his campaign for election," declared Eugene Lamb Richards of counsel for the prosecution in his address opening the case against the impeached executive.

"All the technicalities and quibbles raised by the respondent have been swept away by this court," began Mr. Richards, "and he must accept this case on its merits. 'High crimes and misdemeanors' in the high office of William Sulzer but devoid of the criminal and misdemeanor which we shall prove against him. His chief offenses are plain fraud, larceny and perjury."

After outlining the provisions of the election law relating to the reporting of campaign contributions, the attorney continued:

"With these provisions in force, what did William Sulzer do? He was nominated on October 20, 1912, and almost immediately he began to solicit and obtain large sums of

ASSEMBLY ACT IS INVALID SAYS COURT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Cincinnati, Sept. 24.—A municipal court has no legal existence in Cincinnati, according to decisions of Common Pleas Judge Geoghegan, today. In one case the judge decided that "Squire Templeton cannot be mandated to remove a squire's court case to the municipal court, and in the second case the court held that 'Squire Bell could be enjoined from so removing a squire's court case. Both cases are decided upon the ground that the legislature, in creating the municipal court, exceeded its authority in naming Police Judge A. C. Fricks as the presiding judge of the new municipal court in this case Judge Geoghegan holds that the legislature undoubtedly has the right to create a municipal court and provide for the election of judges, but that in designating who shall be the presiding judge it made the act unconstitutional."

It is said that the decision may have an effect upon the proposition for the election of municipal judges this fall and that although nominations have been made, any taxpayer could go to court and win the board of elections, under Judge Geoghegan's decision. Also, it is said that the decision holds in the higher court, magistrates are restored to all their authority before the law became operative and Judge Fricks returns to his position as police court judge.

Miss Peary, the "Snow Baby," to Wed Explorer

"The Snow Baby" is to be married, and she has chosen for her husband one who knew the trials and the cold of the region where there is eternal ice. Many millions of persons will recollect "The Snow Baby," the child of Rear-Admiral and Mrs. Peary, who was born in the Arctic Circle.

The engagement of Miss Marie Peary to Donald MacMillan, who was with Peary on his dash to the pole, has been announced.

Miss Peary was born further north than any other white child in the world, her mother being the first white woman to winter with an arctic expedition. The name "Ahngito," Eskimo for "Snow Bird," was bestowed upon the child, who is the subject of Mrs. Peary's book, "The Snow Baby."

Dr. MacMillan is head of the Crocker Land expedition, whose vessel, the Diana, was wrecked off Barge Point, Labrador, on July 15. The party continued its voyage north on the Erik, but was unable to reach its winter goal, Flager Bay, this season on account of the ice. Dr. MacMillan planned to be in the far north for three years.

Preparing for Annual Distribution of Fish In Streams Over State

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Sept. 24.—Republican leaders in Washington, identified from the first with the demand for a Republican National convention to revise party rules and procedure, expressed strong approval today of the platform adopted yesterday by the New York Republican state convention. They believe the resolutions adopted by New York Republicans will have a great influence toward bringing about a national Republican convention early next year for the revision of some of the more seriously criticised rules of the party.

The Republican National Executive committee which last summer agreed to call the entire national committee, "within sixty days after the adjournment of Congress," is now being urged to take immediate action.

Letters sent to Chairman Charles D. Hilles last week by Senators Cummings and Jones, representing the "conciliation committee," selected by Progressives and some Republicans at Chicago last spring, strongly urged Mr. Hilles to convene the executive committee and take further steps to secure an early decision as to whether a convention would be called. If such a gathering is held, it is planned to have it early next spring, so that its decisions may become effective before the congressional campaign.

The specific demands of those who want party procedure changed, according to those chiefly interested in the movement here are clearly embraced in the resolution of the New York convention, namely—to allow states to determine the method of selecting their delegates to National conventions and to base the representation in conventions upon the number of votes cast for the party candidates at previous elections.

Those principles have been endorsed not only by the Progressive-Republican forces, and by many Progressives but by Senators Root, Lodge and others, who have been active figures in the management of recent Republican National conventions.

"I am very much gratified at the action of the New York convention," said Senator Jones today. "It ought to have good effect in building up the sentiment in favor of changes in the party procedure. It is a striking evidence of the fact that the mass of voters in the Republican party want things put in shape."

Actions of that kind will accelerate the movement back to the Republican party.

In the Republican primaries Edward C. Stokes, former governor, was an easy winner over his three opponents.

OHIO WILL ASK DISCHARGE OF U. S. RECEIVER

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbus, Sept. 24.—The state public utilities commission is getting tired of being without authority over the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton railroad because it is in the hands of a federal receiver, and this afternoon expected to pass a resolution urging the United States court to order sale of the road at any price it will bring. Attorney General Hogan probably will appear before the court as a representative of the utilities commission to request the sale. No official action can be taken by the utilities commission toward the sale of the road, and the resolution will carry only moral authority with the federal court.

For many years the D. T. & I. road has been involved in litigation and now is in the hands of George P. Johnson as receiver. It carries a bonded indebtedness of nearly $25,000,000 and has an equal amount of stock in addition to a quantity of receiver's certificates. Attempts have been made to sell it at a small fraction of the amount of stock issued.

After the road has been sold and is out of the hands of a federal receiver, the state utilities commission may enforce laws against it as against other companies.

"Before becoming a member of the utilities commission I never had heard of the D. T. & I. said Member E. W. Doty today. "Since becoming the much-mooted question as to the advisability of having the manufacturer control the retail price of his product will be discussed by J. E. Linahan, of Chicago."

Indiana is making a strong fight for the next convention.

SEC. GRAVES TO RULE ON PETITIONS

Administrations Fight On Referendum Reaches a Climax

TIME LIMIT IS REACHED

Hogan Argues the State's Case Before the Head of Ohio's Election Machinery Wednesday Afternoon.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbus, Sept. 24.—This afternoon witnessed the climax of the state administration's fight to head off the Ohio Equity Association's referendum on the Green workmen's compensation bill and the Warner and Kilpatrick measures which carry out Governor Cox's tax reform ideas.

The quasi-legal procedure that has been conducted before Secretary of State Graves for weeks and which it was alleged, brought to light wholesale frauds in the preparation of the three referendum petitions, was brought to a conclusion when Attorney General Timothy S. Hogan appeared before the head of the state's election machinery, sitting in the role of a judge, and asked that every petition filed on the three bills or the Equity Association agents be thrown out on the general ground that the whole procedure was tainted with fraud.

In the presence of Governor Cox and a party of administration leaders the attorney general commenced speaking at 2 o'clock. The decision of the secretary of state is expected late this afternoon, as this is the last day upon which the secretary of state may rule out invalid petitions. The constitution in providing for the initiative and referendum stipulates that if attacked, the rulings on the attack must be made 49 days before election. Today is the fortieth day.

In the event the secretary of state rules out all petitions on the three bills, as was generally believed today, another complication will be created. The question will then arise as to whether or not the Equity Association may file supplementary petitions. In the event only part of the petitions are disqualified, the petitioners have 10 days in which to file supplementary petitions; but the theory was advanced today that if all of the petitions are disqualified the Equity Association will have nothing to supplement, and that their referendum of the three bills is killed outright, pending possible resurrection in the regular courts.

It was generally admitted that the situation, being entirely new in this state, will be immediately taken into the courts for a legal construction immediately after the Graves ruling is issued.

In arguing that the secretary of state is authorized to rule invalid all of the petitions filed on the three bills by the Equity Association instead of only those in the preparation of which specific fraud has been detected, Attorney General Hogan advanced the broad theory that the entire referendum was polluted by fraud at headquarters.

"The state would be considered a unit on referendum matters," Mr. Hogan declared. "Where it is shown that a statewide referendum is managed from a central headquarters and that the state promoters participated directly in advising or countenancing the frauds in the individual counties where their agents were sent, the entire referendum should be thrown out."

"If these frauds in the various counties had been purely local, and

SELECT THREE GUBERNATORIAL CANDIDATES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Boston, Sept. 24.—Having selected their candidates for all state officers and members of the legislature in yesterday's primaries, the three officially recognized political parties began the campaign today for the election of November 4, with Lieutenant Governor David I. Walsh of Fitchburg, leading Democrats, James S. Bird, of Walpole, the Progressives and Congressman Augustus P. Gardner of Hamilton, the Republicans.

During the next two weeks other candidates may enter the field for governor by nomination papers and it was rumored today that Governor Eugene N. Foss might run for a fourth term by such independent methods.

Lieutenant Governor Walsh and Mr. Bird won their places at the head of their respective tickets without opposition but Congressman Gardner had to dispose of Col. Everett C. Benton, of Belmont, in order to gain party leadership.

COX OPPOSES BATTLESHIP EXTRAVAGANCE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbus, Sept. 24.—Governor Cox is against the two-battleships-a-year policy.

"If we only would cut out the cost of one battleship we could stamp hog cholera out of this republic and save an annual loss of $10,000,000," he said today, commenting on the national farm congress held yesterday at Plano, Ill., where he made an address.

Governor Cox has been asked to address the Illinois Bankers' Association when it meets next month in Chicago.

CONVENTION WILL DISCUSS ADVERTISING

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Cincinnati, Sept. 24.—The annual convention of the central division of the Associated Advertising Clubs of America opened here today and will continue for three days. Truth and efficiency in advertising will be the keynote of the delegates who will discuss many important features of their profession.

One of the most important subjects considered today was truth in advertising. An address on this subject was delivered by Blaque Wilson, editor of the Toledo Blade, who afterward presided over a symposium which considered this matter.

C. L. Benjamin of Milwaukee, will speak of the "service that advertising has rendered to the public" and the much-mooted question as to the advisability of having the manufacturer control the retail price of his product will be discussed by J. E. Linahan, of Chicago.

Indiana is making a strong fight for the next convention.

LORD DEWEY COPS THE THIRD $10,000 STAKE OF SEASON

Races in Grand Circuit at Columbus Entertainment Large Crowd Today—Good Program All Week.

Associated Press Telegram.
Columbus, Sept. 24.—Lord Dewey's victory in the third $10,000 stake of the season today was a triumph for the favorite. The race was a close one, but Dewey's speed and endurance proved too much for his opponents.

The Horse Review. Saturday's three-year-old trotters will be the first attraction this afternoon and it is expected that there will be more than a dozen starters. The purse for this race is $10,000. Dewey, son of Al Stanley, is a favorite.

Other races on today's card are the two-year-old race in which three horses were entered, and the one-mile race in which four horses were entered. The race in which three horses were entered was a close one, but Dewey's speed and endurance proved too much for his opponents.

Based on Hoster-Columbus race. The Columbus Grand Circuit meet was a triumph for the favorite. Lord Dewey's victory in the third $10,000 stake of the season today was a triumph for the favorite.

Victories in Tommy Horn in the Capital City stake and in Homer Baughman in the Horse Review stake were played their part in building up excitement. Marigold and Tilly Tilton, members of the Murphy stable, were reckoned upon as the probable winners.

To the three heats on Monday of the three-year-old race were added three yesterday. Princess Margaret gathered in the title and the race, handing herself a shining favorite over the B. E. Eleven 2-year-olds.

Lord Dewey's conquest was the third straight $10,000 one he's made. At Syracuse week before last and last week at the Michigan fair in Detroit, he topped the summary. His ways of going weren't liked in either of those affairs nearly as much as was the style he showed yesterday.

Two heats in 2:00 1/2, with the other in 2:05 1/2, gave the race an excellent time average for trotting of this class.

In acclaiming Lord Dewey the winner, a new system was used. There were no flowers from the Hoster-Columbus company. Instead, Driver Ray Schneider was introduced, as was Carl J. Hoster of the company standing sponsor for the stake, and President E. W. Swisher of the Columbus Driving Park Company presented a silver loving cup to Mr. Schneider.

Fan Patch, W. L. Snow being her driver, made a fight for the decision and earned second money, $2,000, and half what was awarded to Lord Dewey. The mare was ever a contender. Off to a bad start in the second heat, she fought her way forward and was third. Second place depended on what was done in the third mile, and Fan Patch hustled so well that she not only finished right back of Lord Dewey but made him equal the time of the first heat.

Many people were glad to see Lord McDonald win the Capital City stake, valued at $2,000, with Tommy Horn. Lots of these satisfied folks were those who had wagered that the favorite, Marigold, couldn't win. Others pulled for McDonald because it was evident that it has taken a lot of patience to keep Tommy Horn going.

Twice in the race this gelding made time that cost him his place with the first-timers. He won the first heat by attending strictly to his business. He had going was done in the second and fourth attempts. There was quite a lot of doubt, perhaps, as to what he'd do in the fifth mile, but he went away well and beat at it contentedly.

Right off the post when the program was taken up, Princess Margaret was put to clearing up in the 2:15 heat. On Monday she was second three times, but yesterday she dragged down second money.

Homer Baughman took the short-cut route to victory in the Horse Review. Saturday for 3-year-olds. Twice before this year he has won, but in three other races Tilly Tilton had beaten him. Yesterday Tilly was in the chase until the end of each mile. Then he drifted in to second place.

Marigold, the girl from Danville, Pa., dragged once. In the second heat she had her record of 2:05 1/2. In the third heat, she was found a way in the third mile to get to the front. In the fourth heat, she was found a way in the third mile to get to the front. In the fifth heat, she was found a way in the third mile to get to the front.

Theatres

"The Shepherd of the Hills." Harold Bell Wright, the author of "The Shepherd of the Hills" which comes to the Auditorium on Friday night and night, is conceded to be the most popular American novelist. No modern author's works have had anything like the sale that has been accorded to Mr. Wright's works.

Nearly every one is familiar with the characters in "The Shepherd of the Hills." They are people out of the ordinary run of life, people in whose veins run good, rich, red blood. They do things in a natural, human way; they love and hate with deep passion.

In making a play of his novel, Mr. Wright, with the assistance of Mr. E. W. Reynolds, has retained all the dramatic moments of the story and enlarged upon the character of "Preaching Bill," making a character of him that will be long remembered by theater-goers. Naturally, the love between "Young Matt" and "Young Mary" is the pivot upon which the play revolves.

Messrs. Gaskill and MacVitty, the producers, have mounted the play in a sumptuous manner and given it a cast that promises to prove unequalled in the matter of prices. Seats now selling.

"A Few Days--and Your Face Is Made Beautiful"

Has Secured Whereby Any Woman May Beautify Herself in Remarkable Way, Given by the Famous Skin, Valuable Secret, the Most Famous Living Self-Made Beauty.

By Miss Valerica Sarratt
A NEW history has come into the lives of scores of women who have used my formula for beautifying the face, arms and hands. It is a short, sweet history, as related in many letters I have received from women who have almost won all the beautification of ever being able to obtain the charms they sought by any of the ordinary means so commonly employed.

I say it is a short history because the results produced from my formula have invariably been secured in a wonderfully short time. I say it is a sweet history because the results have been as a rule surpassed the expectations of all those who have used it. I say anyone may now beautify her skin to her own satisfaction, and that she will know it is no such thing as a dream. The formula requires only a few days where by any other common means months or a year would be required. My two formulas are as follows:

"This Formula is Made on All Deep Face Light Wrinkles and on Crow's Feet, Too, It is a Marvel."

glycerine with half a pint of hot water, and while stirring add one ounce of zinc oxide, which will cost you no more than fifty cents at a drug store. Let it cool and it is ready to use. Use it very liberally for a short time, and your fondest hopes will be fully realized.

This Forces Hair to Grow

I was astonished at the extraordinary results of the following formula for growing hair. I had previously tried hair tonics by the dozen, without any success. I hit upon this combination with the result that my hair quickly grew to great lengths, and was thick, fluffy and with a beautiful sheen and gloss. Don't fail to try it. It will be perfectly safe. In a mixture of water and alcohol, half pint of each, or one pint of impure bay rum, if you wish, add one ounce of beta-nitrol, obtainable at drug stores for one or two cents. Mix thoroughly and apply liberally. The effect you use it the more prompt will be the results.

Superficial Hair With Valerica
The only sure way to get rid of superficial hair and without causing the skin to become irritated and scented, is to dissolve the hair. There is nothing known that will do it except simply set a solution which you apply on the hair to be removed, and it will simply vanish. There's no pain, no disagreeable odor, no bad after-effects. You can get simple solution for one dollar at the drug store.

Always Wipe for Wrinkles
Make up your own wrinkle preparation as follows: In a half pint of water add two ounces of glycerine. Keep stirring with a glass rod. Add one ounce of salicylic acid. Add one ounce of borax. Add one ounce of lemon juice. Add one ounce of rose water. Add one ounce of orange flower water. Add one ounce of lavender water. Add one ounce of chamomile water. Add one ounce of mint water. Add one ounce of eucalyptus water. Add one ounce of sage water. Add one ounce of thyme water. Add one ounce of rosemary water. Add one ounce of basil water. Add one ounce of oregano water. Add one ounce of dill water. Add one ounce of fennel water. Add one ounce of anise water. Add one ounce of caraway water. Add one ounce of coriander water. Add one ounce of cumin water. Add one ounce of mustard water. Add one ounce of horseradish water. Add one ounce of ginger water. Add one ounce of turmeric water. Add one ounce of saffron water. Add one ounce of mace water. Add one ounce of nutmeg water. Add one ounce of cloves water. Add one ounce of cinnamon water. Add one ounce of cardamom water. Add one ounce of allspice water. Add one ounce of vanilla water. Add one ounce of almond water. Add one ounce of peach water. Add one ounce of apricot water. Add one ounce of cherry water. Add one ounce of plum water. Add one ounce of apple water. Add one ounce of pear water. Add one ounce of orange water. Add one ounce of lemon water. Add one ounce of lime water. Add one ounce of grapefruit water. Add one ounce of tangerine water. Add one ounce of mandarin water. Add one ounce of citron water. Add one ounce of bergamot water. Add one ounce of neroli water. Add one ounce of ylang-ylang water. Add one ounce of stange water. Add one ounce of sandalwood water. Add one ounce of cedar water. Add one ounce of cedar wood water. Add one ounce of cedar leaf water. Add one ounce of cedar bark water. Add one ounce of cedar fruit water. Add one ounce of cedar seed water. Add one ounce of cedar root water. Add one ounce of cedar stem water. Add one ounce of cedar branch water. Add one ounce of cedar twig water. Add one ounce of cedar leaf water. Add one ounce of cedar bark water. Add one ounce of cedar fruit water. Add one ounce of cedar seed water. Add one ounce of cedar root water. Add one ounce of cedar stem water. Add one ounce of cedar branch water. Add one ounce of cedar twig water.

To Satisfy Develop the Bust
One cannot develop the bust merely by massage. There is one thing that will do it in splendid fashion. It is absolutely safe, always successful in women of almost any age between 16 and 60. Make up a mixture of a half a cup of glycerine, two ounces of rucone and half a pint of hot water, taking of this, when hot, two tea-spoonsful to be used four times a day after meals. It produces a girlish firmness that nothing else can. You can get the rucone at almost any drug store for one dollar.

A Hair Shampoo
This makes up the most luxurious and thoroughly cleansing shampoo I have ever used. Dissolve one teaspoonful of egg oil in half a cup of water. It is the only thing that will leave the hair in a condition that it will remain "done up" after washing, and at the same time get every particle of grease and sebum off the scalp which soap and water can never do. You can get egg oil for five cents at the drug store, enough to last several months.

Nothing Better for Pimples
Using cleanser for skin and pimples, will fail utterly. Mix twelve ounces of granulated sugar, one ounce of salicylic acid, one ounce of borax, one ounce of lemon juice, one ounce of rose water, one ounce of orange flower water, one ounce of lavender water, one ounce of chamomile water, one ounce of mint water, one ounce of eucalyptus water, one ounce of sage water, one ounce of thyme water, one ounce of rosemary water, one ounce of basil water, one ounce of oregano water, one ounce of dill water, one ounce of fennel water, one ounce of anise water, one ounce of caraway water, one ounce of coriander water, one ounce of cumin water, one ounce of mustard water, one ounce of horseradish water, one ounce of ginger water, one ounce of turmeric water, one ounce of saffron water, one ounce of mace water, one ounce of nutmeg water, one ounce of cloves water, one ounce of cinnamon water, one ounce of cardamom water, one ounce of allspice water, one ounce of vanilla water, one ounce of almond water, one ounce of peach water, one ounce of apricot water, one ounce of cherry water, one ounce of plum water, one ounce of apple water, one ounce of pear water, one ounce of orange water, one ounce of lemon water, one ounce of lime water, one ounce of grapefruit water, one ounce of tangerine water, one ounce of mandarin water, one ounce of citron water, one ounce of bergamot water, one ounce of neroli water, one ounce of ylang-ylang water, one ounce of stange water, one ounce of sandalwood water, one ounce of cedar water, one ounce of cedar wood water, one ounce of cedar leaf water, one ounce of cedar bark water, one ounce of cedar fruit water, one ounce of cedar seed water, one ounce of cedar root water, one ounce of cedar stem water, one ounce of cedar branch water, one ounce of cedar twig water.

Removes Blackheads in Few Minutes
This is the way to get rid of blackheads, not in days or weeks, but in a few minutes. Simply sprinkle some pumice on a sponge, wet with hot water, and rub it on the blackheads. The pumice can be obtained at any drug store for fifty cents. You will be astonished how wonderfully it acts.

DENISON GAINS 20 STUDENTS OVER LAST YEAR

[Special to the Advocate]
Granville, Ohio, Sept. 24.—Six hundred and twenty-five students are now enrolled in Denison University. This is an increase over last year of about twenty students. The college life of Granville is now in full swing and the "freshies" show themselves only in day time because of the terrors to which they would venture into darkness where some lurking band of sophomores might be waiting to catch a freshman and precipitate him into the key waters of Raccoon creek or rob him of some carefully cultivated locks of hair. It is rumored that several of the freshman class have already met such a fate, but maybe it is only the talk of the sophomores who wish to intimidate the unfortunate lower classmen. Many sophomores are now seen patrolling the streets at night in a manner to arouse the suspicion of both faculty and residents of the town.

Differences between the two classes will be decided on October 2, when the two classes clash in the annual scrap which is the most looked forward to event of the fall. After the scrap in the morning a football game will be played between the sophomores and freshman teams for which both classes are now practicing.

The junior class met Tuesday afternoon and elected E. P. Mills of Ashabula, president and Lucille Summers of Parkersburg, W. Va., secretary.

The city of Newark made defendant in a suit instituted in common pleas court Wednesday by David Stough, who charges that faulty construction of the municipal sewer and paving at the intersection of Fifth and Paaskala streets has damaged his property.

He alleges that a garden valued at $250 has been ruined and that his residence has been made unhealthy and unsafe by overflowing of the fifth street sewer. He seeks $500 damages. He is represented by Attorneys Smythe & Smythe.

PURPOSE OF THE ORGANIZATION OF THE NEW LEAGUE

Attorney J. H. Miller, president of the Good Government League of Newark and Licking county, in a communication to the Advocate, offers the following explanation of the purpose of the new organization:

"The Good Government League was organized primarily for two distinct purposes, namely: to defeat the measure to reduce the size of the legislature and to secure the passage of the measure to prohibit the shipment of intoxicating liquor into dry territory. It took no action whatever on the compensation law, and while I have no authority to speak for the league, personally I am in favor of this measure."

Today in Pugilistic Annals

1884—Jack Dempsey defeated Tom Henry in 6 rounds at New York. Dempsey then claimed the lightweight championship of America, as a result of his defeat of George Fulmages of Canada, and this claim was disputed by Henry. They first met at Rockaway, and boxed three fast rounds when the police put a stop to the mill. The second bout was staged in a New York theatre, and the future middle-weight champion of the world received for his victory the magnificent sum of $200.

1893—Young Brown, Hebrew lightweight, born in New York City.

1901—Jim Jeffries knocked out Joe Kennedy in second round at Los Angeles.

1910—Kid Williams knocked out Sam Miller in first round at Baltimore.

First Things

The first treaty between the English and the Iroquois was made on this date, Sept. 24, in 1684, and ushered in a friendship that continued for over a century. The Iroquois had been alternately at war and peace with the French in Canada for sixty years, and the English found their ducky allies valuable allies in the war with the French for North American supremacy. The treaty with the Iroquois was one of the first official acts of the English governor who, earlier in the same month, had taken over the Dutch possessions and changed the name of New Amsterdam to New York and that of Fort Orange to Albany. In 1633, and again three years later, the French invaded the Iroquois country, and the redskins lost half of their warriors. In 1713 the French gave up all claim to the Iroquois, and peace reigned for a time, but in 1755 the warriors joined the English in the war for the conquest of Canada. When the American revolution broke out the Iroquois adhered to the crown. At the conclusion of the war most of the Iroquois took refuge in Canada.

Attorney General Hogan's Telling Blows Against The Referendum Frauds

"The real reason for going from the representative form of government in Ohio direct to the people was to guard against corruption and if we public officials were to shut our eyes to the corrupt methods employed in procuring referendum petitions we might as well shut our eyes to bribery. The same reason applies for guaranteeing the safety of the referendum as applies for prosecuting members of the general assembly, who sell their votes."

The above was the reason given by Attorney General Hogan, the state's noted foe of fraud, to a representative of this paper, who asked him why he was so vigorously fighting the proposed referendums on the Green Compensation act, The Warnes and Kilpatrick tax laws.

The state's attorney was sure of his ground before he acted, and a straight trail of corruption, fraud, bribery, perjury and forgery was opened to him before he decided to go before Secretary of State Graves and bare all the evidence of rottenness permeating the referendum petitions. Fictitious signatures appeared by the thousands. Addresses when traced were found to be morgues, vacant lots, workhouses, the penitentiary and middle of streams. Equity Association solicitors whose sense of humor would not down, wrote fictitious names and used Mr. Mutton, Mr. Hamm, etc.

They made a joke of the referendum. In looking up cases of fraud in the past, General Hogan said he did not find in any of the litigated cases corruption comparable in any degree approaching the corruption in the referendum petitions.

On of the strongest points in the argument which the attorney general will make in throwing out the petitions will be taken from a decision of the Oregon supreme court. That court held that in passing upon petitions for referendums that one had the right to consider the absence of an intent to get an honest petition. When those in charge of a petition connived at illegality, the whole petition was invalidated, according to the supreme court judges of Oregon.

"The evidence in the cases of the two proposed referendums on the two tax laws disclosed that even after it was learned that not 10 per cent of the signatures on the Green law was good, the same character of work was continued on the Warnes and Kilpatrick laws," says General Hogan. "No attempt was made to get an honest petition, even after investigation disclosed that the Green law petitions were honeycombed with fraud. Not a single investigator or prosecutor who appeared before Secretary Graves in this investigation testified the petitions bore the earmarks of honesty. Some from the rural communities were legal, but the number of signers were small."

Spiking Their Guns

Gradually but effectively Governor Cox and those associated with him in the State Administration are spiking the guns of the Republican Ex-Office Holders' Association. A few weeks ago, these calamity howlers were parading a long list of state departments as being new burdens for the taxpayers to stagger under. Now the list has been reduced to one law.

In their frenzy to make political capital, the extravagant claim was made that the State Liquor License Commission would cost the tax payers of Ohio $3,000,000 a year. That, was before the law went into effect. Now we hear no more such complaints, since it has been learned that the administration of this measure will not cost the tax payers one penny. Instead this department will provide $600,000 of the new revenue to the commonwealth each year.

Just now the calamity howlers are telling of the alleged immense expense the Warnes bill will be. The Governor will spike the guns of the opposition aimed at this law as soon as it becomes effective. As stated by the Governor in his Lancaster speech, recently, here is what will happen under that measure:

Except for the interposition of the Warnes appointive tax assessor law there would be 2,500 officers at work next January making the quadrennial reappraisal of real estate. The last reappraisal of that kind cost $1,500,000. The Warnes bill abolishes every one of these offices and saves that expense.

Next April, there would be at work 3,415 assessors of personal property at an expense of $600,000 under the present system, but the Warnes law will abolish all of those offices and that separate item of expense.

The total number of offices abolished by the Warnes bill, including 240 members of City Boards of Review, is 6,455. To take the places vacated by that horde of office holders, the Warnes law creates 3,365 places, a decrease of 4,090.

The Warnes law provides 162 deputy tax commissioners, there being two for each of 14 larger counties, and one for each of the others. There will be 264 members of Boards of Complaints, three members for each county. The number of deputy district assessors will not be more than 2,000, making a total of 2,564. Thus another gun of the Ex-Office Holders' Association will be spiked—quite effectively too.

Enforcing the Smith Law

The State Administration is watching zealously to see that the rate limitations of the Smith one per cent tax law are rigidly observed. To accomplish this the State Tax Commission is scrutinizing with great care the reports of county auditors showing the rates of taxation in various counties.

It was announced at the office of the commission that the budget commissions would be held strictly to the letter of the law as regards tax rates. The Tax Commission will insist that every limitation of the Smith law be regarded, including the 1910 limitation, and if necessary will enforce its ruling in the courts.

Several rate sheets that have been received show an excess total over the Smith law limitations and they have been sent back for correction.

A French invention of phonograph records on a prepared cloth, which may be mailed like a letter, threatens to rival stenographers.

Ice cream is not used to a great extent in England. If the season is unusually warm there is a good sale for bottled soft drinks.

Governor James M. Cox has thus classified the great reforms instituted by his administration to the complete satisfaction of the progressive sentiment of the state:

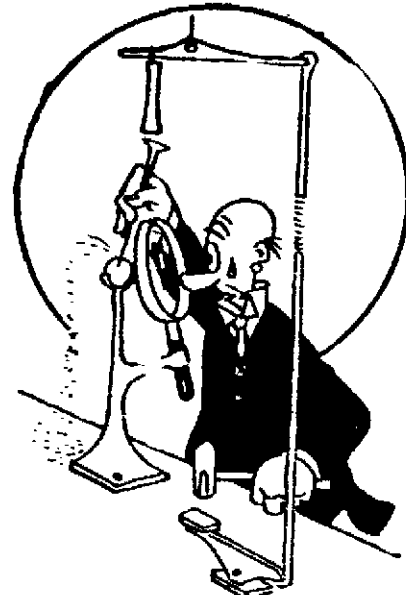

"First—A consolidation of departments, with accruing economies.

"Second—A larger measure of regulation.

"Third—An entire new program with reference to industrial accidents, methods to prevent them, and humane compensation to the dependents of those who lose their lives or to injured workmen.

"Fourth—A solution of not only the great problems within the cities, but in our farm life as well."

On Second Thought

A patient Englishman has carved the king's monogram on an egg. This, however, hardly flatters the king, as the egg was probably bad before the man finished.

Girls take piano lessons because it is the proper thing to do. It is not known why men take piano lessons.

A good father-in-law is one who pays for having his daughter's teeth fixed just before she gets married.

There is no such thing as a modest man. But a few men give a sufficiently lifelike imitation of modesty to fool the people.

A man becomes reconciled to advancing years, but a woman fights the evidences of age with every artifice at her command to the day of her death.

When a woman puts on a show she exhibits her bleeding heart. When a man gives a performance he removes the rag from his sore toe.

In a small town the best way to achieve the reputation of being a sport is to stay up until eleven o'clock at night.

Another way to learn all about an actress is to talk to the man who managed her tour last season.

The first thing a boy learns after leaving home is that there is no good gravy in the world, and mighty little of any kind.

The best way to conceal one's identity is to marry a prima donna.

The next best way is to marry a popular actress.

The Human Procession

Eugene Noble Foss, now in his third term as governor of Massachusetts, will celebrate his fifty-fifth birthday today. He is a native of Vermont and was educated in the University of that state. Some thirty years ago he entered manufacturing in Boston, and since then he has been prominently identified with the industrial, traction, banking and other interests of the Bay State. For a decade he has been a leader in the movements for tariff revision and reciprocity. His official career began in 1910, when he was elected to Congress as a Democrat.

Although originally a Republican, Governor Foss has been a Democrat for many years, and he was among those who "tossed" for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1910. He lately voiced vigorous criticisms of the tariff policies of his party, and created a sensation by the announcement of his purpose to transfer a large part of his "savings" to the Democratic cause. In carrying this move, he placed the responsibility upon the tariff policies of both parties, and alleged that from three to five hundred million dollars of United States capital is now invested in Canadian manufacturing plants.

"Every duty imposed by the Democratic Congress," Arthur Woods, or consideration to our American people.

is a free gift to our readers, competitors of a valuable thing belonging to the American people. declares the Bay State executive. "We should have with Canada, and other countries, such trade agreements as would enable us to manufacture our goods in the United States, giving employment to American workmen, and utilizing only American capital."

Among the many Canadians who have left their native land to win fortune and fame in the American country, not the least notable is George G. Booth, who, with his two brothers, Ralph H. and Edmund W., controls seven of the leading newspapers of Michigan. Mr. Booth was born in Toronto forty-nine years ago today. After several years in the manufacturing business he entered on his journalistic career a quarter of a century ago as manager of the Detroit Evening News. A short time ago, however, he had married Ellen Warren Scripps, daughter of the famous Detroit newspaper publisher. In 1907 he established the Grand Rapids Evening Press. He still controls that paper, as well as being the president of the Detroit News, and associated with his brothers in the ownership of the Jackson Citizen Press, the Saginaw Daily News, the Bay City Times, the Flint Journal and the Muskegon Chronicle.

The Rev. Dr. Mark Allison Matthews, who built in Seattle the largest Presbyterian congregation in America, was born in Calhoun, Ga., forty-six years ago today. There he grew to a height of six feet and a half, and there he began his career as a preacher twenty-five years ago. After holding several pastorates in the South, he went to Seattle in 1902, and soon won international recognition as a Presbyterian leader. In 1912 he was elected moderator of the general assembly of the denomination in the northern states. Dr. Matthews began preaching at nineteen, some time before he was ordained, and in his first sermon instructed parents in the rearing of children. He has never owned a "barrel," but burns the manuscript of each sermon as soon as it has been delivered.

Wisdom from Washington

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Sept. 24.—(Special.)—Republicans in both house and senate voted for the tariff bill. Republicans to the number of twenty-four voted in the house for the currency bill. Progressives in the house voted almost solidly for the currency bill.

Just how are those Progressives and those progressively inclined Republicans going to make any great campaign against the Democrats next fall? The campaign issues are being made now. The tariff will be the main issue, as usual.

The Republican regulars (standpatters) stood out against both the tariff and currency bills. They will have a direct party fight on those issues.

War on King Canaus.

The campaign by the Democrats in 1910 was largely on "Cannonsism," although it is doubtful if the voters cared or knew much about Cannonsism. They were voting against the Payne-Aldrich tariff law and protesting against the high cost of living that year.

Next year the Republicans and Progressives will make a campaign against "King Canaus." It will be about as good as "Cannonsism" and amount to about as much.

People do not care so much about the methods of doing things as they do about results. It isn't the "how" so much as the "what" that figures with the voters.

Stay In and Fight.

Senator La Follette does not approve secession from a party because that party does not do what one desires. He does not approve of the action of Congressman Anderson in resigning from the ways and means committee because he did not like the methods that have been employed since he has been a member of that committee. "He should have stayed on the committee and fought for reforms," said the Wisconsin senator. "There were a lot of old line Republicans in Wisconsin who would have liked nothing better than to have had me get out of the party. But instead I remained in the party and fought for what I wanted. And now they are outside."

"Colonel Roosevelt would have been much better off for the future if he had remained with the party," was an implied question.

"Immeasurably," was La Follette's reply.

The Reason Why.

Congressman Chapman of Indiana was throwing a few javelins into the civil service system. Speaking of the way things happened in his district when a person was appointed for office, he said, "It has been the most remarkable coincidence I have ever known that a chapter of accidents seem to come along so that the best Republican worker is selected for the place."

"Perhaps it was because he was the smartest man," suggested John Langley of Kentucky.

"No," asserted Gillop. "My district has more intelligent and able Democrats than Republicans. That is why it is Democratic."

The more a man knows about law the more apt he is to steer clear of it.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

The Best Kind Of a Birthday Celebration.

DADDY and Jack and Evelyn had been talking about the best way to spend a birthday.

It was to be Jack's birthday, and he thought a day at the seashore would be nicer than anything else.

If daddy would invite his chum, Frankie Green, to go with them to the seashore Jack felt that there was little more to be asked.

"I'm glad you thought of asking Frankie," daddy said. "I think it's a fine birthday idea to try to make others happy instead of planning for oneself."

"One of the finest birthdays I ever heard of was the one that a little girl named Blanch planned."

"Blanch had had parties and all sorts of nice birthday celebrations. This year she thought she would like something different."

"Now, Blanch noticed that many of the little girls who go to the same school do not have as nice frocks as she does. In fact, some of the little girls are very poorly dressed."

"Often she has thought how nice it would be if every little girl in the world could have kind and indulgent parents like hers—a nice home to live in, pretty dresses to wear and lots of nice books to read. Blanch is very fond of reading."

"When her mother asked her what kind of a birthday treat she wanted this year Blanch looked very thoughtful."

"I had a birthday party last year," she said. "This year I would like to have another kind of treat."

"And what would you like, dear?" her mother asked.

"I would like to treat some of the little girls who go to my school."

"Blanch's mother smiled. Most little girls think of getting presents on their birthdays, but Blanch has always been a little girl who thought more of others than herself."

"After a little while Blanch told her mother how much she would like to make a present of a pretty frock to the little girls who could perhaps not afford such nice ones. She said if she could do this she would not care for any birthday party or gifts for herself."

"Blanch's parents talked over her plan. Then they told her she could have her wish. How the little girl's eyes sparkled when she heard it! Before school closed she got the names of a number of little girls from her teacher. They were all little girls to whom the gift of a pretty new frock would be welcome."

"Blanch helped her mother select the gowns, and on her birthday each little girl was invited to come to see her, and then each was surprised with the gift of a lovely new gown. Oh, it was fine! Blanch said she never had such a delightful birthday. It was far better than the party she had had last year."

Uncle Walt's Philosophy

Mother Eve.

With leaves of figs and barks and twigs Eve built herself a garment; "ah, this will check the rubberneck," she murmured, "d'rat the varmint!" With modest taste around her waist she tied the home made apron; she understood that it was good and through the woods went caperin. She had no looks on woman's looks, no fashion plates, distressing; she was not dense, her own good sense inspired her in her dressing. And Adam gazed on her amazed and cried: "Goi darn my galways! Without a crown to buy a gown, she's looking scrumptious always!" In modern times dames have the dimes to buy all kinds of dresses; they're anxious found to jog around in little but their dresses. Transparent rags clothe withered hags and maidens young and tender; and jeers and sneers assail the cars of modesty's defender. Alas that we should toged out by France's shameless rotters; we well may grieve that Mother Eve had more sense than her daughters. Some day the dame who shows her frame and every joint, by golly, will wonder why the gods on high allowed such crazy folly.

GAYNOR'S ESTATE IS VALUED AT TWO MILLIONS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

New York, Sept. 24.—The will of Wm. J. Gaynor, late mayor of New York, as filed today, leaves to the widow his Brooklyn residence and 500 shares of Royal Baking Powder company stock. The remainder, with the exception of minor bequests of the estate is divided, two-sevenths to each of two sons and one-seventh to each of three unmarried daughters. The value of the estate is estimated at $2,000,000.

The two married daughters, Mrs. Harry Yingt and Mrs. Wm. Seward, Jr., receive $1,000 each.

The share of Rufus Gaynor, a son, who was with the late mayor when he died aboard the steamer Baltic, is placed in the hands of trustees, who are instructed to pay him the income until he is thirty years old and then surrender the principal if they judge him capable of handling it wisely. In a codicil Mayor Gaynor describes Rufus as a "good boy always, without bad habits, but it may be too easy and liable to let go what he has, not knowing how hard it is to accumulate property."

The will directs the trustees to end their trust for Rufus "provided they are satisfied from his past life and his business capacity and habits that he will not let it slip through his fingers and I want him judged fairly in this respect." Rufus is now 24 years old. He is the oldest son. Norman Gaynor is just 21. When the will was made, May 1, 1909, his father directed that his share of the property be held in trust until he became of age. The only other beneficiary mentioned in the will is the late Mayor's maiden sister, Mary Gaynor of Utica. Miss Gaynor receives a house her brother owned in Utica and the income of 115 shares of baking powder stock he held for her in trust during her lifetime.

The legacies to the three unmarried daughters, Helen, Marion and Ruth, also, are placed in the hands of a trustee, to be held until they are 25 years old. Until they are twenty-one these daughters are not to receive more than $1,500 a year; after that, and until they come into possession of their full shares they shall receive the entire income. No explanation is given of the apparently discrimination against the two married daughters, both of whom eloped and married without their father's knowledge or consent. The will provides that any heir who contests the division of the estate shall automatically forfeit his legacy.

Mayor Gaynor prepared the instrument in his own handwriting. It covers ten pages of foolscap.

TESTIFIES FOR DEFENSE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Springfield, O., Sept. 24.—Dr. Julius Richburg, of Cincinnati, testified for the defense in the second trial of Dr. Arthur B. Smith, charged with poisoning his first wife, today, that he had signed the death certificate of Alfred Caviler, Mrs. Smith's brother giving the cause of death as myocarditis. The testimony is in support of the theory of the defense that Mrs. Smith died from a heart ailment and not from the administration of poison as the indictment holds.

Dr. R. L. Bell of this city, testified that complete collapse follows cyanide poisoning. The state showed Mrs. Smith to have thrashed about the bed at the time of her death.

RELATIVES WILL INVESTIGATE GAULT'S DEATH

Mystery surrounds the death of Otto C. Gault, 27, of Frazesburg, a nephew of Attorney Joseph W. Horner of Newark, whose body arrived here Wednesday morning from Red Bud, Ill., where the young man is said to have met death Sunday at 2:30 p. m. by falling from a Mobile & Ohio train.

Incidents in connection with Gault's death are being investigated by his uncle, the local attorney. It appears that Gault left his home in Frazesburg about two weeks ago to work in the west. At the time of his departure he is said to have had several hundred dollars on his person. No personal belongings other than clothing were sent here accompanying the body.

Moreover, the certificate of death made out by the Illinois coroner is not sufficient to warrant the issuance of a burial permit, and Coroner W. E. Wiyiarch was notified Wednesday afternoon that he would be expected to view the remains now being held in the Bazler & Bradley undertaking rooms, in order that a burial permit may be made out in time for the funeral service.

The dead man's mother, Mrs. Sarah Ashcraft of Frazesburg, identified the body Wednesday forenoon, shortly after 10 o'clock, when the body was taken from a Pennsylvania train. Arrangements were made for the funeral service to be held in the chapel at Cedar Hill cemetery Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, with Rev. Don D. Tullis officiating.

Besides his mother, there survives one sister, Mrs. Emma Priest of Monaca, Pa., and one brother, John Gault of Frazesburg.

Examination of the body by the local undertaker revealed no marks of violence, but there are indications that the man's neck was broken. The clothing which accompanied the body, purporting to be that worn by Gault at the time he met death, is in good condition. The man was attired in blue trousers, with coat and vest to match, wore a soft, black negligee shirt, gray silk hose and a good pair of practically new shoes.

Significance is attached to a cut over the right hip pocket of the trousers. The cut lays the pocket open and appears to have been jabbed with some sharp instrument. The pockets of the clothing were empty when the body arrived here.

The local undertakers were surprised at the form of the death certificate forwarded with the body by the coroner from Red Bud. The body was labelled "unknown." Yet the dead man's sister, Mrs. Priest was apprised of his death by a telegram from Red Bud, and she notified members of the family in Frazesburg.

The occasion for the misunderstanding regarding the man's identity offers a puzzle to authorities here, at least until further communication can be received from the coroner in the Illinois town.

Young Gault was a laborer, and is said to have been highly esteemed in his home community.

WANT TAFT AND CANNON REMOVED FROM COMMISSION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Sept. 24.—When former President Taft arrived here late today to attend a meeting of the Lincoln Memorial commission he found a resolution in Congress to legislate him out of the commissionship, and "Uncle Joe" Cannon and a personal friend of Lincoln's.

Bids for a memorial, a gigantic structure of marble near the Potomac are to be opened tomorrow. Congressman Borland introduced a resolution today asking Congress to repeal the law which authorizes the memorial and name a new commission to be composed of Democrats, including Vice President Marshall and Speaker Clark. His resolution sets out that the memorial now proposed will cost much more than was estimated and will be confronted with newly discovered engineering difficulties. Borland was a warm supporter of a Lincoln highway from Washington to Gettysburg.

It takes two to make a bargain, but only one gets it.

SECRETARY GRAVES

had not been committed with the connivance of a state headquarters at Cleveland, we could not ask that all of the petitions be thrown out," Mr. Hogan continued. "We have proven beyond doubt that there were glaring frauds in many counties. This would vitiate those specific petitions. But we have also shown that the fraud was general and not local, and that it was perpetrated through the connivance of the state promoters of the referendums. This, we claim, pollutes the petitions as a whole and demands in the interest of clean government that they be denied the recognition of the state."

He reviewed the testimony which has been taken by the secretary of state for weeks and in which it was shown that petition peddlers sent out by the Equity Association filled their petitions with forgeries and with the names of dead men and secured many of the real signatures through gross misrepresentation of the real purpose of the bills on which they were asking a referendum.

Mr. Hogan particularly emphasized that portion of the evidence which carried the trial of the corruption into the central office of the Equity Association in Cleveland, based upon allegations that petitions collected in various outside counties were sworn to in wholesale lots by the central office men.

The decision of the secretary of state upon the blanket request that all petitions be thrown out on the ground that the referendums were tainted with fraud was awaited with interest as it would likely blaze the way for future proceedings in Ohio under the initiative and referendum.

DETECTIVE ARRESTED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Columbus, Sept. 24.—Arrest of a detective connected with the Cleveland office of a private detective agency, on a charge of perjury in connection with the latest phase of the referendum scandal, was promised by the attorney general's office today.

Special Counsel Robert Morgan of Cleveland was asked by telephone to go to Elvira and swear out a warrant charging Ralph Stone of Cleveland with perjury. It is claimed that Stone is one of the detectives employed by the Ohio Equity Association to collect referendum petition signatures. The charge was based on affidavits presented to Secretary of State Graves today by Assistant Attorney General McGhee, in which C. F. Salisbury, former sheriff of Lorain county, testified that Stone employed him to circulate referendum petitions in Lorain county and that after he had turned over the signed petitions, Stone went before Notary L. D. Hamlin and swore that he, Stone, had collected the signatures personally.

MORE TESTIMONY OFFERED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Columbus, Sept. 24.—Additional testimony concerning alleged fraudulent methods of circulating referendum petitions from Lorain county was submitted to Secretary of State Graves this morning. This testimony, it was said, would be used by Attorney General Hogan in making his argument to Secretary Graves this morning, when he will ask that all of the petitions for referendums be thrown out because of irregularities.

Mr. Hogan is to make his arguments before the secretary of state at two o'clock this afternoon and Secretary Graves expected to give his decision soon after that time.

The opinion was freely expressed about the capitol, by administration leaders that Mr. Graves will rule that none of the petitions shall stand.

THE FORWARD-LOOKING WOMAN
THE FIRESIDE WOMAN
By Barbara Boyd

The Disappearance of Portia

"ISN'T it strange there are no Portias in modern life?" remarked the Forward-looking Woman.

"I thought," replied the Fireside Woman somewhat hesitatingly, "that women were studying law."

"There are women lawyers here and there. But I mean as a generally accepted fact in life. It looks as if we had gone backward."

"Oh, but we are not going backward!" exclaimed the Fireside Woman earnestly. "Everybody says this is the age of progress."

"The American people are awfully fond of saying things in italics and with exclamation points," observed the Forward-looking Woman, reflectively. "But they are not always so fond of living up to what they say. Here is what one of our most eminent jurists states, 'The greatest master of human manners who read the human heart, when he desired to solve what had puzzled the lawyers and doctors, placed a woman upon the judgment seat; and yet, under the present existing law, if Portia herself were alive, she could not defend her opinion before the Supreme Court of the United States.' Now doesn't that look as if we were retrograding?" If today some question of law were puzzling everybody, would a woman be called to the judge's seat? It would never be thought of. And if the idea were suggested, it would be laughed to scorn by the majority. I can see all the joke-smiths and cartoonists sharpening their pencils and falling to at the very thought. They would consider it the richest morsel that had come their way in a long time. And this, not because of anything inherently wrong in the idea itself, but because it runs counter to traditions and conventions and life as it has for the past few hundred years."

"But the majority of women today couldn't fill such a position if it were thrust upon them," objected the Fireside Woman.

"Neither could the majority of men. But there are some men who, because of training and mental ability, could. And there are also some women who, for the same reason, could. There are fewer women than men, simply because woman has not had the opportunity to fit herself for this work that man has had. Fortunately these opportunities are opening for her, and here and there, in some States, she has actually judicial positions. But there are still courts where she could not plead her cause. Such conditions certainly seem antediluvian to me. Why shouldn't she study law, why shouldn't she plead a case, why shouldn't she act as judge, if she wants to and qualifies according to legal requirements? What has the fact of her being a woman got to do with it? Whether she can make good or not should be the sole test."

WILL ATTEND THE AMERICAN GOOD ROADS CONGRESS

President Fred C. Evans of the board of trade Wednesday forwarded to officers of the American Good Roads Congress, in Detroit, the names of members of the board of county commissioners and County Engineer Swartz, as delegates from this county to the congress which meets in Detroit, Sept. 30 to Oct. 4.

It is likely that one of the commissioners and the county engineer will attend the congress, as it is believed the county would benefit greatly in the matter of highway construction, by acquiring knowledge of new methods that would mean a general saving.

Among the speakers listed to appear before the congress are the representatives of some thirty highway departments, including those of the New England states, where the good roads movement has been developed into a real science, and where money invested in road improvement is regarded as money invested in the wisest possible expenditure.

It is thought Commissioner J. H. Orr may be the man selected to attend with the county engineer. As there is no appropriation either in possession of the county or the board of trade for such a purpose, the delegates probably will bear their own expenses.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Ladies! Try this! Darkens beautifully and nobody can tell—Brings back its gloss and thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

ILLNESS MADE HIM DRINK; THE BOOZE MADE HIM STEAL

Pleading that a "spell of sickness" was responsible for his spree which has continued for nearly a week and that his spree was responsible for the theft of chickens from Goldie Higginbotham of 107 Jackson street, Sam Lasage, a foreigner, asked the indulgence of the authorities, promising not to offend in a like manner again.

Seven fine chickens were stolen Monday night. The police investigation followed Sam's innocence in doubt, and placing his arrest he did not deny that the blood of the chickens was on his hands.

Wednesday morning an affidavit was filed against Lasage, being signed by Goldie Higginbotham. Friends of Lasage engaged the services of an attorney and will endeavor to get the man off with a light sentence at the most.

OFFICERS MUST PAY TRANSPORTATION OF PERSONAL BAGGAGE

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, Sept. 24.—A sad blow to the traveling expenses of American military officials was delivered today by George E. Downey, comptroller of the treasury who decided that army officers when traveling without troops, must pay for the transportation of their personal baggage out of the seven cents mileage allowed by the government. The decision applicable alike to army, navy marine corps and revenue cutter service, abolishes a long enjoyed privilege. The only baggage the government will pay for in the future will be tents, clothing, utensils and other necessary military accoutrements.

WOMAN'S LAW IN STATE OF OREGON

(Associated Press Telegram)

Portland, Ore., Sept. 24.—The industrial welfare commission of Oregon has adopted a ruling, made public today which will become a law Nov. 23, fixing a minimum wage of $9.25 a week for adult women clerks who are not apprentices; defining eight hours and twenty minutes as the maximum day's work and fifty hours as the maximum for a week; and making 6 p. m. the latest hour at which any woman may be employed on any day of the year in a mercantile establishment. The order automatically eliminates Saturday night shopping and Christmas holiday night shopping in such establishments. Some department store proprietors protested vigorously, but in vain. One department store owner helped frame the ruling and defended it warmly.

GOVERNMENT NOT IN FAVOR HIGH COST OF DYING

(Associated Press Telegram)

Washington, Sept. 24.—The "high cost of dying" was disturbed by George E. Downey, comptroller of the treasury today when he was called on to decide officially what constitutes a "decent burial." The widow of a lighthouse employee who died at Washington, D. C., in the discharge of duty and was buried in Baltimore, presented a bill for $198 which the comptroller said was too high, wherefore he proceeded to cut the account in two.

A hearse, one hack for the widow, the comptroller conceded, might be essential to the "decent burial" of a married man, but he refused to pay for a funeral cortege of seven carriages. He likewise declined to approve a black suit for the corpse costing $10, underclothes and hose $1.25 and newspaper "advertising" in the nature of funeral notices to the amount of $3.40. The government bought the dead man a casket and box for $27 at Washington, D. C., but the comptroller refused to pay for a $70 casket to which the body was transferred when it reached Baltimore.

WILSON CANDIDATE HAS BIG MAJORITY IN THE PRIMARIES

(Associated Press Telegram)

Newark, N. J., Sept. 24.—Supporters of Woodrow Wilson nominated their candidate for governor at the New Jersey primaries yesterday, carrying every county in the state with the exception of Mercer and Essex. Fielder's majority in the state was estimated at 20,000. In Essex the Smith-Nugent assembly slate was nominated over the Wilson men and James R. Nugent was returned to the Democratic state committee by a majority estimated at 4000.

Everett Colby, father of the new idea faction of the Republican party, which later became the Progressive party in the state, won by 2500 over Edmund B. Osborne of Montclair in the gubernatorial nomination contest in the Progressive party. The Progressive was extremely light, influenced by a court ruling that voters who participated in the Democratic or Republican primaries last year were ineligible to vote in the Progressive primaries this year.

Good Quality Is the Basis of Good Style

What are the new styles for the coming fall and winter? First of all there are so many new styles that every woman can wear just what she looks best in, and yet be in the height of fashion. It is decidedly the fashion to be becomingly dressed.

Dow Do The Styles Differ From Last Season

All the new suits, coats and dresses are much more picturesque than last season. Many suit jackets are cutaway. The lengths differ just as much as women differ in height and figure. There are draperies galore. They seem to belong to the dresses that are made of the softer fabrics, some draperies simply suggest a drape, others come in a multitude of folds.

The collars are varied, and very clever. Some have many adjustments and seemingly make two or three coats out of one. For example, the Glamour collar of the Woolsey coat is one of the very cleverest. Pockets adorn jackets and coats. Not many skirts are slashed.

There is no one fashionable color. Many women are wearing black or blue because they look so satisfactory after hard wear. There are many softer shades, browns and greys, and all sorts of invisible mixtures, but the prominent colors are black, blue and brown for general wear.

Come in this week and be your own judge. Only remember that "GOOD QUALITY IS THE BASIS OF GOOD STYLE".

MORE THAN 50 MEN IN SQUAD AT OLD DENISON

(Special to The Advocate)
Granville, Ohio, Sept. 24.—Five teams, two freshman, eleven and three teams of eligible men began scrimmage work on the gridiron at Beaver field yesterday afternoon. Candidates for the positions that remain are many and there is more enthusiasm here than there has been for many years. N. G. Rupp was elected captain of the freshman team at a meeting of the freshman football men here yesterday and he began work immediately.

It is for Coach Livingston this year to build his team upon the four men remaining from last year. From the thirty-nine candidates that are now out it looks like a team of quality and speed can be picked that will rival that of former years by making up in speed that which was lost from last year's team. No definite statement can be made at present as to the lineup as the men have not yet had enough practice to show their speed. Haskins is still the best choice for an end and Hickman is looking up bigger for a like position.

As soon as the choice squad is picked from the freshman material they will practice and play against the college team in practice games. This work is calculated to develop material for next year as freshmen are ineligible for the college team. Previous to yesterday the time had been concentrated to tackling, the dummy and drills of the like nature in preparation for the scrimmage which began in earnest yesterday.

SULZER'S DENIAL

money for campaign purposes. He went at his campaign for money with systematic deliberation and cunning schemes to conceal what he got.

Five days after he was nominated he made a public announcement that he would have no campaign collectors or financial managers and yet his private secretary was already running a secret campaign account and he himself had collectors working for him, scouring the city and state for checks and cash.

"He preferred first currency which has no earmark, next checks to bearer or cash, next, checks to the order of someone other than himself, and if this were impossible he was willing to take checks to his own order. He had more than one 'bagman' which I believe is a favored expression of his. He had a bag himself, which was as open to a $10,000 contribution as to a $2 one.

"We shall show this court instances of his requests that checks should be made to the order of someone other than himself; that he preferred cash to checks, and that when some of his collectors came in with checks he asked them in the future to cash the checks and bring the cash.

"He did more than collect and hold these checks. He intended to keep them. He had no thought of returning the surplus to the contributors, for it will clearly appear that he used and intended to use their contributions to buy stocks and to supply margin for stock speculations.

"He had many ways of getting money, and had many ways of disposing of it.

"During the period from October to November, 1912, into and out of the campaign bank account of his secretary, Louis Sarecky, sent practically $12,000, about $7,000 more than the defendant reported in the post election statement. Into Sulzer's Farmers Loan & Trust Account went $15,000 more. To Harris & Fuller, stock brokers, there went $10,000; to Boyer, Griswold & Company, $12,000, and to Fuller & Gray, $17,000. Of these amounts over $40,000 was in currency.

The prosecuting attorney then took up the governor's statement of campaign expenses, which recorded the receipt of but $5,460.

"He reports sixty-eight contributors," Mr. Richards continued, "and while they are undoubtedly estimable men there is not to be found among them any man of prominence in the financial world, not a single contributor whose name could carry meaning to such electors as might examine the statement.

"There is no report of any contributions from such financial magnates as Jacob H. Schiff or E. C. Benedict; nor from Myers, the banker, nor from Morgenthau or McCombs; nor from wealthy men identified with the brewing and liquor interests whose contributions had been received by the respondent. We shall ask the court to infer that it was not by accident but by design that the names of wealthy and powerful contributors, whose influence might have been felt in his administration are omitted from the list.

"We shall show that the respondent continued to speculate in stocks after he became governor and that while so interested he caused to be introduced in the legislature and advocate the option of legislation vitally affecting the rise and fall of securities on said exchange, and we shall leave it to this court to say whether his act as governor in favoring such legislation was not influenced by his personal interest in the fluctuation of securities affected by that very legislation.

At 2:18 o'clock today Secretary of State Mitchell May was called to the stand and sworn as the first witness in the impeachment trial of Governor William Sulzer.

SURPLUS CAN'T BE USED TO PAY OFF GAS BOND

(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, Sept. 24.—A city can not use the surplus revenue resulting from the operation of an electric light plant owned by the city to pay off the bonded indebtedness created by the construction of a municipal gas plant, according to an opinion given by Attorney General Hogan today. The question came from Hamilton.

Mr. Hogan also held that the surplus revenue from the operation of the gas plant can not be used to pay off the bonded indebtedness of the gas plant. Court proceedings transferring this surplus to the sinking fund is necessary to make the money available for that purpose, Mr. Hogan holds.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Denver, Colo., Sept. 24.—Snow and rain fell along the eastern slope of the Rocky Mountains and it was a dreary outlook that greeted the coal miners today, the second day of their strike.
